

Healthiest Nation 2030

NATIONAL PUBLIC HEALTH WEEK

USF College of Public Health

Changing Our Future Together

April 2-8, 2018

Tuesday, March 27 • 12 – 1:30 p.m. • Inter-Professional Lunch & Learn Seminar: “Integrating Cultural Competency and Diversity in Health” • MDA 1209

Sponsored by the Public Health Student Association and USF Health Shared Student Services. Contact: Dr. Marlene Joannie Bewa, mjbewa@health.usf.edu.

Monday, April 2 • 12 – 2 p.m. • This is Public Health! • COPH Lobby

Enjoy healthy desserts and learn how to get involved with COPH student organizations. Contact: Ellen Kent, ekent@health.usf.edu.

Tuesday, April 3 • 12 – 6 p.m. • Give Life Day and Wellness Fair • COPH Lobby

Help others by donating blood and registering for the National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP) and Donate Life Florida. Also, learn how to stay healthy and safe at work, school and home. See more on the event flyer.

Wednesday, April 4 • 8:30 – 10:30 a.m. • Public Health Awards Ceremony • COPH Samuel P. Bell, III Auditorium

Annual celebration presenting awards for Excellence in Teaching, Outstanding Alumni, Florida Outstanding Woman in Public Health, student achievements and cutting-edge research. Contact: Peggy Smith, msmith3@health.usf.edu.

Wednesday, April 4 • 11 a.m. – 2 p.m. • USF Bull Market • USF Marshall Student Center Plaza

Public health is everywhere! Participate in interactive activities and learn about the promising careers in public health, as well as COPH's academic programs and community service opportunities. Contact: Ellen Kent, ekent@health.usf.edu.

Wednesday, April 4 • 12 – 1 p.m. • Healthy Bites • COPH 2006

A brown bag conversation with 2018 Outstanding Alumni Award winner Sharad Suryakant Malavade, MBBS, DNB, MPH, PhD. Trained as an ophthalmologist in India, he witnessed preventable deaths from infectious diseases. Learn how his public health passion evolved and led him to serve as senior resident in internal medicine at Brandon Regional Hospital in Florida. Contact: Natalie Preston, npreston@health.usf.edu.

Wednesday, April 4 • 6 – 7 p.m. • Peace Corps Prep Info Session • USF Marshall Student Center, Room 3713

Learn about USF's Peace Corps Prep Program designed to prepare students for international development fieldwork and potential Peace Corps service. Contact: Wilnie Merilien, peacecorps@usf.edu.

Thursday, April 5 • 12 – 1 p.m. • Healthy Bites • COPH 2006

A brown bag conversation with 2018 Outstanding Alumni Award winner Candace K. Webb, MPH. Learn how she networked her way into a Washington, DC internship, finished her MPH online and landed a dream job in the district. Twelve years later she still calls Washington, DC home and serves as a senior state health policy analyst with the Georgetown University Health Policy Institute, Center for Children and Families. Contact: Natalie Preston, npreston@health.usf.edu.

Thursday, April 5 • 1 – 3 p.m. • Design + Health: A special event organized in celebration of World Health Day 2018 • USF Marshall Student Center, Room 2708

Sponsored by the USF College of Public Health, Florida Center for Community Design & Research, USF School of Architecture, and the Disaster and Humanitarian Relief Student Collaborative. Learn more here. Contact: Elizabeth Dunn, edunn@health.usf.edu.

Thursday, April 5 • Hillsborough Co. Public Health Teach-In Day

Students share their public health passions with youth in public schools. Contact: Ellen Kent, ekent@health.usf.edu.

Friday, April 6 • 9 a.m. – 12 p.m. • Annual Chiles Center Lecture and Symposium: “To Achieve Health Equity, We Must Go (Even Farther) Upstream” • COPH Samuel P. Bell, III Auditorium, Room 1023A.

Sponsored by the USF College of Public Health’s Chiles Center. Contact: Sara Silva, ssilva@health.usf.edu.

Saturday, April 7 • 3 – 6 p.m. • 5th Annual COPH Cookout & Potluck • USF Riverfront Park

The COPH family is invited to a fun afternoon of food, fitness, and friendship. Contact: Alana Falcone, afalcone@health.usf.edu.

Ongoing during NPHW

Spring Book Drive to benefit the USF Reach Out and Read Program. Donate new and almost new books for children (in English and Spanish). Collection box is located in the COPH lobby.

The USF College of Public Health is pleased to partner with the following organizations:

Hillsborough County Health Department
Hillsborough County Public Schools
Florida Prevention Research Center
USF Sunshine Education & Research Center
OneBlood
National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP)
Donate Life Florida
American Heart Association
USF Peace Corps Prep Program
Lawton and Rhea Chiles Center for Healthy Mothers and Babies
USF Health

Unless otherwise listed, all events are held at the USF COPH, 3010 USF Banyan Circle, Tampa, Fla. 33612.

For information on National Public Health Week, visit www.nphw.org or contact ekent@health.usf.edu.

To learn more about the College of Public Health, visit www.publichealth.usf.edu or call (813) 974-3623.

COLLEGE OF PUBLIC HEALTH
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA

OUR practice is our passion.™